

Birth Registration Form

Under the Act of Births and Deaths, any citizen who births a child may submit a birth registration form to the Central Government of Hokoria. Birth registration forms notify the Department of the Interior and the Office of National Records that a new citizen has been registered.

Important information to be aware of:

- The Central Government of Hokoria will not release any private information relating to the individual, except to a family member where legal documents prove such relation.
- The Central Government of Hokoria's recognition of the individual being birthed does not substitute informing the government of the nation in which they reside within.
- The information of the birthed individual is publicly recorded.
- This publicly recorded information is not released, but may be requested by anyone.

Upon the completion of this paper application, please submit it to the Department of the Interior or the Head of State. Email to hokoriagov@gmail.com.

How this works

1. Once submitted to the Department of the Interior, this form will be processed by an official.
2. The Office of National Records will create the individual's records.
3. The Department of the Interior will update public records to reflect the individual's birth.
4. You will be contacted once this process has been completed.
